2. Receipt of Prepayment of Principal Amount of the Loans by the Cyprus Borrowers

GLH has negotiated with the Cyprus Borrowers to make a prepayment under certain loan agreements, and after careful consideration, GLH has given a consent to the Cyprus Borrowers for such prepayment. Given the current circumstances, GL deems that allowing the Cyprus Borrowers to make a prepayment would be for the best interest of GL, as such prepayment would help maintaining the loan to collateral ratio to an appropriate level, and thus more appropriate credit risk management, although there would be an impact on future interest income.

On 11 April 2017, GLH has received a prepayment of the principal under the loan agreements including and all interests accrued until the prepayment date at 10 April 2017, from the Cyprus Borrowers into its bank account, details of which are as follows:

Borrowers	Type of Agreements	Date of Agreement	Pre-paid Principal amount (in USD)	interests accrued until the prepayment date (in USD)
Bellaven Limited	Loan Agreement	18 Sep 2015	4,000,000	15,890

Adalene Limited	Loan Agreement	30 Jun 2016	5,000,000	20,548

Following the prepayment as described above, the principal under the loan agreements including and all interests accrued until as at 10 April 2017 are as follows:

	Loan Agreement	14 Dec 2016	2,400,000	9,863
	Loan Agreement	23 Jan 2017	2,260,634	9,290
Total			29,598,266	122,002

All existing collaterals provided under the Loan Agreements with the Cyprus Borrowers shall remain collaterals to secure the obligations of the Cyprus Borrowers under the Loan Agreements until all outstanding principal and interests are paid in full and the value of all collaterals (including GL Shares, valued at Baht 22.30 share based on the closing price as at 10 April 2017) fully cover the total outstanding principals of the loans to the Cyprus Borrowers.

Therefore, as at 11 April 2017, all principals and interests that have become due and payable by the Cyprus Borrowers and the Singapore Borrowers have been paid to GLH, and there are no payments currently overdue.

Please be informed accordingly

Sincerely yours,

(Mr. Tatsuya Konoshita)
